with expecting what will be the conclusion of Mr. Hooker's business. Cambridge disputes it pro et con. It drowns the noise of the great question of tonnage and poundage. If he be once quietly gone my lord has overcome the greatest difficulty in governing that part of the diocese."

When 40 years old, Hooker first exercised his faculties as a lecturer at Chelmsford. He was born at Marfield, in Leicestershire, and educated at Emanuel College, Cambridge; he first desired a settlement at Colchester, but was disappointed therein. After his troubles at Chelmsford, he opened a school at Little Baddow, five miles from Chelmsford, where he had John Eliot, the Apostle, as an assistant. At Little Baddow lived Sir Henry Mildmay, as already noted, and in the church chancel is a stately marble monument to him, representing him in armor, reclining under a canopy. His seat "Graces" is identified in the farm of Great Graces, held in recent years by the Yell family, farmers.

Ten miles west from Chelmsford is High Laver, where Roger Williams resided in 1629; and Williams, in his "Bloody Tenent Yet More Bloody," refers to riding with Hooker to and from Sempringham. Williams at that time was chaplain to Sir William Masham of Otes, High Laver. At Otes, John Locke, the philosopher, died in 1704; and here also died Lady Masham, known as Abigail Hill, Queen Anne's favorite. Lady Winifred, wife of Sir William Masham, was a daughter of Sir Thomas Barrington, and both families were strong Puritan supporters. (See Gleanings, Vol. 1, p. 340, &c.) Adjoining Chelmsford is Moulsham.

On 16 Dec. 1645, John Rogers of Watertown, N. E., clothier, son of Thomas Rogers of Moulsham, in the parish of Chelmsford, in Essex, shoemaker, deceased, gave a power of attorney to Robert Scot of Boston to collect in England any legacies, gifts or debts due him. (Aspinwall, p. 9.) This entry settles without doubt the item in the Rogers pedigree (Gleanings, Vol. 1, p. 204), that John, bapt. 18 Oct., 1612, son of Thomas, and who came to Billerica, Mass., was cousin to Rev. Nathaniel of Ipswich, Mass. (Gleanings, Vol. 1, p. 232.) The will of Thomas Rogers, of Moulsham, shoemaker, is given in Gleanings, Vol. 1, p. 216, in which his son Thomas is to pay his brother John £30 when he reaches 22 years. John, born in 1612, would be aged 22 in 1634, and he came to Watertown in 1636, at which time there was a Thomas Rogers in Watertown, who died and was buried 12 Nov., 1638, aged 50 years. Thomas Rogers of Moulsham appears in the tax list, and is the only one of the name.

At Newland Hall, Roxwell, four miles from Chelmsford, was located a branch of the Eliot family. (REGISTER, Vol. 39, pp. 365–371; and Winter's Pilgrims of Lazing, pp. 34–6).

The Vassall family was intimately connected with the settlements of the Massachusetts Bay Company. John Vassall of Ratcliffe, Stepney and Eastwood, Co. Essex, was ancestor of this family, through his sons by his second wife, Samuel and William Vassal, the first a patentee of the Bay Company; and by his third wife he had a son Stephen, rector of Rayleigh, Essex, who was the head of the Essex branch. Eastwood is about 15 miles and Rayleigh about 10 miles, south-east of Chelmsford.

On the death, in 1623 (Gleanings, Vol. 2, p. 936), of Rev. James Eliot, at Rayleigh, a member of the Essex family of Eliots, previously referred to, Rev. Stephen Vassall succeeded him. The Apostle Eliot, in his Roxbury church record, refers to Mrs. Anne Vassall, wife of William (who came to Roxbury, Mass.), half brother of Rev. Stephen Vassal. Rev. James Eliot's house at Rayleigh, "Barringtons," in late years has been the residence of Mrs. Rose of Rayleigh.

In 1786, when President John Adams visited England, among other places he went to was Chelmsford. Among the early settlers in Chelmsford, Mass., were Samuel and Thomas Adams, and the English town had therefore some interest for him on that account. He wrote in his diary: "Chelmsford was probably named in compliment to Mr. Hooker, who was once minister of that town in Essex."

An examination of the names of the inhabitants of Chelmsford, and the surrounding parishes, in England, shows a striking similarity in family names with the settlers in Middlesex County, Mass., especially in Cambridge, Mass., where Hooker first settled with many of his flock.

ROGERS

9. JEREMIAH[1] ROGERS, whose parents are not known, was one of the first settlers of Lancaster, Mass. He married Mehitabel Pierce, daughter of John and Mary Pierce. She was born probably in Dorchester, and probably about 1630, as she had three children to whom her father left legacies in his will in 1661. When Indians, in Feb. 1676, burned all the buildings in Lancaster except the church and one house, all the inhabitants who were not killed or captured fled to Dorchester. Among the refugees were Jeremiah and his family, and he died there Sept. 26, 1676, probably in the small pox epidemic which had broken out. Lancaster records say Abiah Rogers, widow of Jeremiah, died at Dorchester, Jan. 10, 1678. She and two of her daughters, Abigail and Bathsheba, died of small pox the same month. As the birth and death records of their children in Lancaster all read child "of Jeremiah Rogers and Abiah his wife," that must have been another name for Mehitabel.

Bassett-Preston Ancestors
Belle Preston
The Tuttle, Morehouse & Taylor Co., New Haven, Conn. 1930

Jeremiah Rogers of Salem, wheelwright, Ichabod of Lancaster, cordwainer, and Jehoshaphat of Topsfield, tailor, conveyed their interest in lands of their father, Jeremiah Rogers of Lancaster, to Edward Phelps, May 12, 1710.

Samuel Trescott and Margaret, his wife, one of the daughters of Jeremiah Rogers, late of Lancaster, deceased, convey to Edward Phelps, land purchased of Abiah Warren of Boston, widow, one other daughter of said Jeremiah Rogers, May 21, 1710 (Middlesex Co. Deeds, vol. 15, p. 261).

A manuscript book "History, Genealogy and Biography of the Town of Wales" (until 1828 called South Brimfield), by Absalom Gardner, 1873, now in possession of town clerk of Wales, says, on page 12, Abijah was a son of Jethro Rogers (a brother of Ichabod and Joel).

4. ELAM[6] ROGERS was born in South Brimfield, Mass., Sept. 23, 1801, the son of Abijah and Polly (Wetherbee) Rogers. From 10 to 21 years of age he lived with a farmer in South Brimfield whom he called Uncle Cyril Carpenter. After his marriage he manufactured hoes with his brother-in-law, Baker Batchelor at Groton. Later, both worked in the Wadsworth Scythe Works, Auburn, N. Y.—probably residing in Aurelius. He moved to Ballston, N. Y., 1841, and made scythes and axes with Isaiah Blood, owner of the Ballston Scythe Works. He built a home there at 134 Maple Ave., where he died Aug. 5, 1887.

surgeon, m. Hannah, d. of Gov. Walter Clark, but she was, I presume, sec. w. for the Friends' rec. of N. show his m. 7 June 1682, with Patience Malins, and Gov. Walter Clarke's d. was then rather too young.

ROE, ANTHONY, Falmouth or Scarborough 1663–83, of good repute in 1670, as by the court with ano. he was made conjoint. constable of both towns. EDWARD, Exeter, sw. alleg. 30 Nov. 1677. ELIAS, Charlestown, m. 17 July 1656, Rebecca, d. of Robert Long, had John, bapt. 27 Nov. 1670. He d. 18 Jan. 1687, his w. hav. d. earlier. HUGH, Hartford 1661, rem. perhaps to Salem, but, in 1669, is on the freem. list of Conn. and bef. 1678, was at Suffield, there d. 5 Aug. 1689, and his w. Abigail d. 3 Sept. foll. He had first liv. at Weymouth, and there his d. Esther d. 11 July 1655; and his s. Samuel was b. 14 Jan. foll. wh. d. the yr. bef. his f. and other ch. nam. in his will were Peter, Mary Denslow, Eliz. Merrill of Saybrook, and Abigail Taylor; gr.ch. Abigail Kent; and three Warners. JOHN, Charlestown, prob. s. of Elias, by w. Ruth, had Elias, bapt. 26 Aug. 1688, d. in few days; John, 27 Oct. 1689; and Ruth, 5 Apr. 1691. MARK, York 1666, serv. that yr. on the gr. jury. PETER, Suffield, s. of Hugh, m. 1689, Sarah, d. of Thomas Remington, and had sev. ch. RICHARD, Charlestown, br. of Elias, wh. had admin. of his est. after he perish. Nov. 1666, by casual. at sea. Sometimes, but rarely, these names are enriched with a w.

ROGERS, ANDREW, a passeng. from London 1671, in the Arabella, of wh. no more is heard in our country. DANIEL, Ipswich, s. of Presid. John, m. Sarah, d. of the first John Appleton, tho. the Appleton mem. p. 16, makes her w. of Samuel R. had Sarah, wh. d. inf.; Sarah, again, b. 27 Apr. 1694, d. soon; Sarah, again, 29 May 1695; Margaret, prob. 8 Jan. 1699; Eliz.; Priscilla; Mary; Daniel, 17 Oct. 1706, H. C. 1725, the min. of Littleton; John, 16 Sept. 1708; Patience, 4 Sept. 1710; and Nathaniel, 6 Aug. 1712, d. in few days. He was sch.master, town clk. and reg. of probate, tho. his handwriting is ill, and he perish. in a cold snowstorm on Hampton Beach, 1 Dec. 1722. See Geneal. Reg. VI. 70. DAVID, Braintree, had Ruth, b. 3 Jan. 1641; and he d. 24 Sept. 1642. ELEAZER, Milford, was freem. 1669, and the name was perpet. there to 1713. EZEKIEL, Rowley, first min. there, s. of Richard, a disting. Purit. divine of Weathersfield, Co. Essex, wh. is assum. by the author of the mem. of Fam. of Nathaniel, but with slight, or, as I think, not even slight, support for his assumpt. to be s. of him burned at the stake 1555, was bred at Cambridge, where in 1604, he was of Corpus Christi, when he had his A. B. and of Christ's Coll. in 1608, on rec. his A. M. came in 1638, with his w. Sarah, d. of John Everard, citiz. of London, wh. d. in ten yrs. He had serv. long aft. 1621, with great reput. and favor of Archbp. Matthews, in that parish in Yorksh. whose name was adopt. here by the people wh. accomp. him; and in a commission out of chanc. for inquisit. into misapplica. of funds giv. by the Queen, he was includ. by her Majesty, as first among seven clerg. after the Archbp. of York, the E. of Cumberland, three baronets, six knights, and eight esqrs. See Oliver's Hist. of Beverly, 195, 6. He was freem. 23 May 1639, had for sec. w. a d. of Rev. John Wilson, wh. d. bef. giv. b. to her first ch. and the third w. Mary, wh. surv. him was wid. of Thomas Barker, m. 16 July 1651; but when he d. 23 Jan. 1661, leav. good est. there was no ch. to inherit; nor is it kn. that he ever had a s. EZEKIEL, Ipswich, s. of Rev. Nathaniel, m. Margaret, wid. of Thomas Scott, d. of William Hubbard, and sis. of the histor. had Martha; Nathaniel, b. 14 Aug. 1664; John, 12 June 1666; Ezekiel, 4 June 1667; Timothy and Samuel; and d. 5 July 1674. His wid. d. 1678, and her will of 22 June was pro. 17 Sept. of the same yr. In it she speaks of being extrix. of her s. Thomas Scott's est. and gives £40 to the s. Rogers, and d. Snelling of her d. Snelling, the name of wh. d. was, I believe, Margaret. GAMALIEL, Boston, s. of Simon, by w. Mercy, had Jane, b. 3 Jan. 1689. GEORGE, Maine, was of the jury 1650, but of what town I see not. HENRY, Springfield, took the o. of alleg. 1678. It is not kn. whether he came from Eng. or was b. here, but prob. the latter; and he m. 30 Dec. 1675, Mary, eldest d. of Richard Exell of S. had Mary, b. 23 Dec. 1676, d. within 4 yrs. John, 5 Mar. 1678; Dorothy, 5 Sept. 1679; Mary, 8 Aug. 1681; a. d. Apr. 1683, d. soon; and Henry, 28 Dec. 1687, and d. 26 Sept. 1724. His wid. d. 23 Oct. 1732. Both his s. had fams. Mary m. 1702, Samuel Cooper; and Dorothy m. 1704, James Taylor the younger. JAMES, New London, is by Miss Caulkins thought to be that passeng. in the Increase from London, 1635, aged 20, and was early at Stratford, there m. Eliz. d. of Samuel Rowland, rem. to Milford, had Samuel, b. a. 1640; Joseph, bapt. 1646; John, 1648; Bathsheba, 1650; James, a. 1652; Jonathan, b. 31 Dec. 1655; and Eliz. 1658; soon aft. he rem. to N. L. was the richest man in the settlem. after Gov. Winth. freem. 1660, rep. 1661–8 and in 1676, began to make with his childr. much opposit. to inf. bapt. and d. a. 1688. Bathsheba m. 4 Mar. 1670, Richard Smith of N. L. and next Samuel Fox as his third w. and Eliz. m. 9 Feb. 1682, the sec. Samuel Beeby. From this man, thro. his fifth s. Jonathan, is deriv. the ancient imperfect vol. contain. the Psalms and New Testam. with a ch. liturgy thot. to be of the days of Edward VI. JAMES, Newport 1638, adm. freem. 1640, and is in the list of 1655, and was gen. serg. 1661–3. JAMES, Eastham, s. of Joseph, m. 11 Jan. 1671, Mary, d. prob. of the first Thomas Paine, had James b. 30 Oct. 1673; Mary, 9 Nov. 1675; and Abigail, 2 Mar. 1678; was a lieut. and d. 13 Apr. foll. JAMES,

New London, s. of James of the same, a sea capt. m. 5 Nov. 1674, Mary, d. of Jeffrey Jordan, of wh. very pleasant tradit. is told by Caulkins, p. 202, tho. as nothing was ever heard of her f. or mo. or bro. or sis. it may fail of truth in some partic. had James, Mary, Eliz. Sarah, Samuel, Jonathan, Richard, and William. In 1677, his w. was fin. for absence from pub. worship as estab. by the governm. and soon after he and his w. were vexed for worsh. estab. by his f. and friends. He d. 8 Nov. 1713. JEREMIAH, Dorchester, m. Mehitable, d. prob. eldest of John Pierce, and had three ch. as in the will of their gr.f. Pierce in 1661, is ment. viz. Margaret, bapt. 1653; Mehitable, b. 6 Oct. 1658; and Ichabod, bapt. 27 May 1660, brot. to D. for the ordin. from Lancaster, whither his f. had rem. beside prob. that Sarah, wh. by rec. of D. d. 21 Sept. 1657. JOHN, Duxbury 1634, prob. of Plymouth 1631, rep. 1657, by w. Frances, had John, Joseph, Timothy, Ann, Mary, and Abigail. In his will of 1 Feb. 1661, he calls hims. of Marshfield, names w. and the six ch. beside gr.ch. George and John Russell. Ann m. John Hudson; and one of the other ds. m. the sec. George Russell. He may have been br. of the first Thomas. JOHN, Watertown 1636, freem. 17 May 1637; JOHN, Weymouth, m. 16 Apr. 1639, Ann, d. prob. of Hugh Churchman, had Lydia, b. 27 Mar. 1642, rem. 1644, to Scituate, going thither, with Rev. Mr. Witherell. This led Deane, he says, to conject. that he was a descend. of him of Smithfield, whose martyrdom was above 99 yrs. bef. and perhaps a slighter conject. never was brought in aid of a trifling tradit. A tradit. prob. equal. worthless, to sustain that, is giv. by D. that the mo. of W. was also a descend. of the martyr. He had also John, Thomas, and Samuel, prob. the first, if not more, b. in Eng. and went back to W. there d. 11 Feb. 1662. The Weymouth man was a deac. and his will of 8 Feb. 1661, pro. 30 Apr. foll. satisfied me, that Deane had confus. two if not three Johns into one. (See Geneal. Reg. X. 265–6.) It gives est. to w. Judith, s. John, ds. Mary Rane, i. e. prob. Rand, w. of John, Lydia, wh. m. 19 Sept. 1660, Joseph White; Hannah m. the same day, Samuel Pratt, and Sarah. The h. of Mary was John. So that we may be sure the Scituate man, with s. Thomas and Samuel, was ano. and that Deane misled Barry in his Hist. of Hanover; and Winsor in his Hist. of Duxbury. JOHN, Watertown, freem. 13 Mar. 1639, m. 1640, Priscilla Dawes at Boston, wh. on her join. the ch. is call. maid serv. of our Elder Thomas Oliver, had John, b. 11 Sept. 1641; Mary, 26 Oct. 1643; Thomas; Daniel; Nathaniel; and prob. sev. ds. was perhaps a baker, rem. to Billerica, there his d. Abigail m. Arthur Warren of Chelmsford; Priscilla, wh. m. 19 Jan. 1682, Simon Coolidge, as sec. w. was prob. ano. His s. John was k. by the Ind. 5 Aug. 1695, as was also, on the same day, his br.

Thomas, and his s. Thomas, aged 11 yrs. Both these s. as well as Daniel and Nathaniel, and d. Priscilla are nam. in his will, made three days aft. that date, of wh. T. and N. were excors. From this we learn also that he had sec. w. for he gives to his w.'s s. George Brown, and her d. Mary B. and he d. 25 Jan. 1686. But ano. JOHN, prob. older, was of Watertown as early perhaps as the preced. and may have been of Dedham 1636, m. so late as Nov. 1653 (but it may have not been first w.), Abigail Martin, had Abigail, b. 21 Jan. 1657; and he d. 22 Dec. 1674, aged 80. Dr. Bond suppos. he was f. of Billerica John. JOHN, Scituate, s. of John of the same, prob. b. in Eng. m. at Boston, 8 Oct. 1656, Rhoda, d. of Elder Thomas King of S. had John, and perhaps Abigail, or others, but not, I think, the Mary, or Eliz. or Hannah ascrib. to him by Deane, as they were ds. of the Weymouth deac.; Mary was sis. of her wh. m. Joseph White of S. and of the other two, prob. unless the dates for m. of the three several. were by him intend. to mean dates of b. Confus. in Deane is here evident, but what he should have said is uncert. Abigail m. 1678, Timothy White of S. JOHN, Milford 1646, d. 1684. JOHN, Huntington, L. I. adm. 1664, freem. of Conn. and in 1669, had been two yrs. perhaps of Branford, d. bef. 1676, prob. without being m. or at least without ch. for his br. Noah inherit. his est. JOHN, Ipswich, eldest s. of Rev. Nathaniel, b. in Eng. early in 1631 (not 1620, as Geneal. Reg. X. 148), prob. at Coggeshall in Essex, where liv. the f. of his mo. but Farmer says at Assington in Suff. was both physician and preacher after leav. Coll. 1649, and some yrs. I believe, was of Boston, but of so common a name, a mistake is very easy; freem. 1674; m. Eliz. only d. of Maj-Gen. Daniel Dennison, had Eliz. b. one acco. says 3, ano. 26 Feb. 1662; Margaret, 18 Feb. 1664; John, 7 July 1666, H. C. 1684; Daniel, 25 Sept. 1667, H. C. 1686; Nathaniel, 22 Feb. 1670, H. C. 1687; and Patience, 13 or 25 May, 1676; preach. occasional. as aid to Cobbett and Hubbard, was chos. Presid. to succeed Hoar, 1676, but declin. and his classmate Oakes was appoint. but aft. d. of O. he was again chos. 1683, when Mather and Torrey had declin. the offer, and d. 2 July 1684, less than one yr. from enter. on his office. His wid. d. 13 June 1723. Eliz. m. 23 Nov. 1681, John Appleton; Margaret, m. 28 Dec. 1686, Dr. Thomas Berry, and next, 25 Nov. 1697, Hon. John Leverett, and d. 7 June 1720; and Patience, m. 15 Apr. 1696, Benjamin Marston of Salem, and d. 22 May 1731. Never, I think, is heard any suggest. that he was of the stock of the martyr of Smithfield, when it might have been difficult to avoid that topic of congratula. had any of his relatives or friends believ. it. JOHN, Duxbury or Marshfield, perhaps s. of Thomas of the Mayflower, and left at home some yrs. Winsor says, had Eliz. wh. m. 17 Nov. 1668, Nathaniel Williams of Taunton;

Abigail, wh. m. a Richmond; and Hannah, m. 23 Nov. 1664, John Tisdale; beside, I presume, that Thomas, bapt. at Scituate, 6 May 1638. JOHN, Duxbury, m. Nov. 1666, Eliz. d. of William Peabody, had Hannah, b. Nov. 1668; John, 22 Sept. 1670; Ruth, 18 Apr. 1675; Sarah, 4 May 1677; and Eliz. He may be the same whose d. is rec. at Marshfield, 7 May 1717, in his 85th yr. if liberal discount be allow. for exagger. Far more prob. is it that the other John of D. was thus long lived. JOHN, Eastham, s. of Joseph, m. 19 Aug. 1669, Eliz. Twining, perhaps d. of William, had Samuel, b. 1 Nov. 1671, d. soon; John, 1 Nov. 1672; Judah, 23 Nov. 1677; Joseph, 22 Feb. 1679; Eliz. 23 Oct. 1682; Eleazer, 18 May 1685; Mehitable, 13 Mar. 1687; Hannah, 5 Aug. 1689; and Nathaniel, 3 Oct. 1693. His wid. Eliz. d. 10 Mar. 1725. JOHN, New London, s. of James the first, m. 17 Oct. 1670, Eliz. d. of Matthew Griswold, had Eliz. b. 8 Nov. 1671; and John, 20 Mar. 1674; began, bef. the end of this yr. to assert opinions and follow forms in relig. wh. disgust. his w. wh. desir. divorce next yr. and aft. 18 mos. gain. the reluct. assent of the Ct. wh. allow. her to retain both the ch. Yet as the ch. grew up, they took to their f. perhaps bec. the mo. had m. 5 Aug. 1679, Peter Pratt, and, in 1691, a third h. Matthew Beckwith. He was found. of a new sect, call. Rogerenes, but tho. he had the glory of kn. that his writings were condemn. and burn. as pestilent heresies, yet without caus. much light to be spread, the schism went off soon aft. his d. wh. was 17 Oct. 1721. A sec. w. Mary Ransford caused him more trouble than the first. JOHN, Boston, of whose est. admin. was giv. 25 Apr. 1672, to his wid. Eliz. JOHN, Weymouth, perhaps s. of John of the same, m. 8 Feb. 1663, Mary Bates, had Mary, b. 3 Apr. 1664; Lydia, 1 Mar. 1666; Experience, 29 Nov. 1667; and Hannah, 23 July 1670; was freem. 1671. JOHN, Salem 1681, a glazier. *JOHN, Bristol, was rep. 1689. JOHN, Ipswich, eldest s. of Presid. John, was ord. 12 Oct. 1692, as collea. with his uncle Hubbard, m. 4 Mar. 1691, Martha, d. of William Whittingham, had John, b. 19 Jan. 1692, H. C. 1711, min. of Kittery; Martha, 20 Nov. 1694; Mary; William, 19 June 1699; Nathaniel, 22 Sept. 1701, H. C. 1721, min. of Ipswich, collea. with his f.; Richard, 2 Dec. 1703; Eliz. 1705, d. young; Daniel and Eliz. tw. 28 July 1707, of wh. Daniel was H. C. 1725, min. of Exeter; and Samuel, 31 Aug. 1709, H. C. 1725. He d. 28 Dec. 1745, and his wid. d. 9 Mar. 1759. JONATHAN, Huntington, L. I. adm. freem. of Conn. 1664. JONATHAN, perhaps of Westerly bef. 1680, m. Naomi, d. of Robert Burdick. JONATHAN, New London, youngest s. of James the first, d. 1697, leav. large fam. but only s. Jonathan. JOSEPH, Plymouth, s. of Thomas, brot. by his f. in the Mayflower, 1620, had two sh. in the div. of lds. 1624, prob. on acco. of his f. wh. d. in the first six mos. but in the div. of cattle had single sh. in the comp. with Gov. Bradford, liv. at Duxbury, there had Sarah, b. 6 Aug. 1633, d. soon; Joseph, 19 July 1635; Thomas, 29 Mar. bapt. 6 May 1638; Eliz. 29 Sept. 1639; John, 3 Apr. 1642; Mary, 22 Sept. 1644; James, 18 Oct. 1648; these six liv. says Bradford, in 1650; and Hannah, 8 Aug. 1652; was some time at Sandwich, but as early as 1655 at Eastham, was lieut. and d. at E. 1678. Eliz. m. 9 Jan. 1660, Jonathan Higgins. JOSEPH, Eastham, s. of the preced. m. 4 Apr. 1660, or Feb. 1661, as in Geneal. Reg. VI. 235, is said, tho. I think with mistake of the mo. by its numeral, 2, wh. in ano. and higher auth. Coll. Rec. foll. by Geneal. Reg. III. 379, stands 4 Apr. 1660, Susanna, d. of Stephen Deane, had Joseph, perhaps posthum. for the f. d. 27 Dec. or Jan. foll. by injury in a fall. His wid. m. 28 Oct. 1663, Stephen Snow. JOSEPH, Salem, d. a. 1668. JOSEPH, Boston, s. perhaps of Simon, by w. Eliz. had Susanna, b. 4 Dec. 1688. JOSEPH, New London, sec. s. of James the first, d. 1697, leav. large fam. JOSHUA, Boston, m. 12 Oct. 1653, Ann Fisen, if that be not an impossib. name, had Joshua, b. 20 Feb. 1655, but the rec. notes his d. on 15 of that mo. NATHANIEL, Ipswich, sec. s. of Rev. John of Dedham, Co. Essex, Eng. fondly report. in mod. times with very little, or rather no probabil. to be descend. of the first martyr in Queen Mary's day, was b. a. 1598 at Haverhill, where his f. was then min. bred at Cambridge Univ. where he was matric. of Emmanuel, 1614, had his deg. 1617 and 21, first preach. at Bocking in Essex, next at Assington in Suffolk. where were Gurdon and other Purit. gentry, the Bp. of the diocese, after fill. by Wren, the puritan-disturber, having comforta. respect. him five yrs. He m. Margaret, d. of Robert Crane, a gent. with good est. of Coggeshall, Co. Essex, at whose ho. perhaps, the eldest ch. John was b. Jan. 1631, H. C. 1649; had also Nathaniel, b. at Assington, 30 Sept. 1632; Samuel, 16 Jan. 1635; Timothy, 9 Nov. 1638, at Ipswich; and Ezekiel, H. C. 1659; beside Margaret, wh. was, no doubt, b. in Eng. and here m. William Hubbard, the Hist. He came from London to Boston, arr. Nov. 1636, and on 20 Feb. 1638 was ord. as collea. with Norton, to succeed Nathaniel Ward, wh. strange. gave up his profession; was freem. 23 May 1639, tho. the magistr. at I. had authority to adm. him 6 Sept. preced. and d. 3 July 1655, a century after the faggot's blaze in Smithfield, and about a hundred yrs. bef. the earliest surmise of the derivat. from the hero of it, of the num. and honorable families here of the same name. His will, nuncup. was pro. 26 Sept. in the hand-writ. of Ezekiel Cheever, first master of the gram. sch. at I. He had carefully kept a Diary, but was wise eno. to see it burned bef. his d. That he, or his kinsman, Ezekiel, were descend. of the celebr. Smithfield martyr, might seem to be justif. by the note of Hutch. I. 190, wh. cites Hubbard, tho. the earliest hist. says nothing like it. Into such carelessness Hutch. does not oft. fall. Hubbard, wh. m. the only d. of this Nathaniel, clearly eno. calls him s. of Rev. John of Dedham, wh. he honorab. marks as the famous preach. as if "it might be honor eno. to say" of Nathaniel, "that he was the s. of Mr. John," "yet heir of a double portion of his spirit, and worthy to have transmit. more honor to his posterity than he received from those bef. him, by reason of his emin. learning, singular piety, holy zeal, with other ministerial abilities." See Hubbard, 554. Surely the hist. could not intend a slur upon the learning, piety, holy zeal, or minist. abilities of him wh. glorified his master in the martyr's fire; and the irresistib. inference is, that he, tho. so intimately related to Nathaniel, had never heard of his descent from the protomartyr of Queen Mary. Tho. he is wholly silent as to John's progenit. hardly can it seem possible that our Ipswich Hist. should not have stated the propagat. of the martyr's seed on our side of the water, when hims. m. (as idly report.) a gr.d. and his sis. (both nam. Margaret), m. Ezekiel, a gr.s. It would have been equally sure to be ment. by him, if these two ms. had been of the fourth or fifth generat. no less than of the third as assert. Neither Johnson, who expends verse upon both of the min. of Ipswich and Rowley, then liv. nor the more judicious and equally affectionate contempor. annalist, Gov. Winth. nor garrulous Mather in his Magn. all-gathering especial. of doubtful reports, nor Ch. J. Sewall, jealous for the honor of puritans, nor Prince, the pattern of accuracy in minute details, hint at any such glorious ancest. more than Hubbard. I presume the tradit. has no older origin than Hutchinson's day; and perhaps he got it, as may have also Dr. Eliot, from their common friend, Rev. Daniel of Littleton, whose f. Daniel was perhaps so nam. out of rever. to Maj.-Gen. Daniel Dennison, f. of his mo. whose only d. she was, rather than of Daniel, s. of the martyr of Smithfield, whose memory puritans would gladly forget, as he was a courtier, and did not keep the godly simplicity of the sufferer. My admirable friend, the late Dr. Eliot, wh. in his Biog. Dict. gave currency to the tradit. as if it were authentic, had assist. he tells us, the Rev. Daniel, some mos. in his pulpit; and the gr.st. at L. over the clerg. that d. Nov. 1782, shows how the sleeper there accept. the honor. But the four generat. of silence on our side of the ocean, add. to the prior eighty yrs. stillness of the mother country, forbid me to entertain any respect for the report first heard in the fifth age of our own history. All the evidence is indeed of a negative charact. but so many facts are ascertain. quite inconsist. with the assumpt. founded on the mod. tradit. that it seems a far safer conclus. may be dr. than if half a dozen pieces of positive testim. were laid for its substratum. From the silence of Giles Firmin, wh. had liv. at our Ipswich under the preaching of Nathaniel Rogers, and

wh. tells how his gr.mo. bec. w. of famous Richard Rogers, author of the seven treatises, and father of our Ezekiel, tho. he is very copious in acco. of both Richard and Dedham John, yet being wholly silent a. the witness of Smithfield fire, my friend, Charles Deane, the scrupulous antiquary at Cambridge, is strongly inclined to disbelieve, that either of these prominent Essex divines could be gr.s. much less own s. of the martyr. His valua. argument on the assum. point of genealogy may be seen in the Cambridge Chronicle of 3 Jan. 1850. Resort is had by the diligent writer in Geneal. Reg. V. 101, to the "identical bible wh. belong. to the protomartyr, print. in 1549," "own. by a descend. at Lunenburg." That volume has been oft. and once or twice with severest, not unaid. scrutiny, examin. by me. It may be premised, that no English bible, print. in 1549, by Cawood and Jugge, printers of our Lunenburg exemplar, after diligent search for one hundred yrs. has been discovered; and all competent judges are now agreed, that the opinion formerly thrown out, as to such an edit. is without support. But the Lunenburg copy is very clearly ascertain. to be of the yr. 1561, the earliest Eng. bible, indeed, of Elizabeth's reign, yet six yrs. after Rogers was burned at Smithfield. Infallible proof of this was furnish. by Mr. Stevens of London, and another mod. disting. biblic. bibliograph. George Offer of London, on a part of the volume sent from this country; and by collation, in many hours by myself, with a sheet of the bible of 1561, sent hither from London, by Mr. O. to his friend George Livermore, Esq. of Cambridge, the perfect. identity is exhibit. in the printer's monogram, the pictures, and the minutest parts of single words, and letters, in the text, correct as well as erroneous. So that this relic, however valua. in itself, affords no prop to the claim of descent from him, any more than it does to the wild tradit. that the noble martyr held this same precious copy in his hand, when suffering at the stake. In proof of the fable, Geneal. Reg. III. 373, truly says the vol. "is much burnt," and it might have add. that it better would have pleased the partakers of the triumph to have burned the book instead of the man. But of the burnt part, wh. very slightly affect. the print, Queen Eliz. in her service book of 1661, suffers most, as I testify. Many of us know of volumes, burnt in part, that never were in the hands of martyrs in Smithfield. From very long protract. inquiry, in order to sustain or reverse my first express. of unhesitat. belief in the descent of our N. E. posterity of Nathaniel Rogers, the closest approach to any exact relation with the martyr amounts only to this: the f. of Rev. William Jenkin of London, wh. was min. of Sudbury, when William was b. 1612, and of course the predecess. of our John Wilson was gr.s. of a d. of the sufferer of 1555, and he had stud. under the old puritan, Richard Rogers of Wethersfield. See Palmer's Non-Conform. Mem.

Vol. I. Slight indeed, and very remote will this relationship appear; but no nearer connex. can be found, I think, betw. any of our innumerable Rogerses and the glorious suffer. John, the editor of Tyndall's bible. Encouragem. to adhere to the illusion, against the strong array of Mr. Deane's logic, was felt by some of the supporters of tradit. for the holy martyr's descent, on hearing that Mr. Hunter of London was slow in deciding adverse to the claim. No judgment, on such a point, could outweigh his. He says in a letter to me, Oct. 1855, "The subject has been so long absent from my mind, that I really do not now understand, how the question rests at present, or even what I may have written about it" — "I know nothing but what I learned from America; and, on the other hand, I never saw in English docum. any evid. of the descent wh. they claim, wh. may, for any thing I kn. be correct, tho. I shd. like to see the evid. on wh. it rests. Something beyond tradit. is now demand. in all claims to ancestr. honors." Only will I add that this tradit. is very modern. In the mass of MS. gather. by Candler to illustr. the Puritan Hist. of Eng. tho. he is so copious upon the E. counties' confessors, no reference to this desc. of John of D. was perceiv. by Hunter, and this since the tradit. was first ment. within twenty yrs. The name was most widely diffus. in Eng. Perhaps there were near a hundred min. in the days of Eliz. nam. Rogers, of wh. one or more may well have been s. of the proto-martyr of the preced. reign. In the Register of the single diocese of Salisbury by Sir Thomas Phillips, from 1297, to 1810, wh. he gave me, are rec. the institutions of Nicholas R. 1565; of Ambrose R. 1569; and of John R. 1582. So natural is it to infer that the blood of the sufferer should in the sec. and third generat. be blessed, that the writer of a Memoir of the fam. of Rev. Nathaniel, claiming to be a descend. in Geneal. Reg. V. 105, most copiously carried out, makes his f. John of Dedham, to be gr.s. of the martyr, and a student so diligent as Dr. Allen, in the Sec. Ed. of his Biog. Dict. made even Nathaniel the gr.s. whereas from the monum. inscript. on John, the Dedham min. we learn that he was not b. bef. 1571 or 2, 16 or 17 yrs. after the solemn scene of his supposed f's. martyrd. in the midst of London. In his third Ed. however, the f. of Nathaniel is made gr.s. of Smithfield John. No tradit. that the f. of Nathaniel was descend. of the hero of 1555, had ever reached his successor at the altar, or the hearers in Dedham, bef. it was told by me in 1842. See 3 Mass. Hist. Coll. VIII. 309. Good acco. is not to be any where found of the ten ch. male and fem. of the noble sufferer at Smithfield, exc. Daniel, ment. by Fox, the martyrolog. He got promotion at Court, under patronage of some civilian of Eliz. and may hardly have encourag. the puritan tendency of any relative. See Hunter's Suffolk Emigr. 3 Mass. Hist. Coll. X. 165. There was a

John R. in the ch. one generat. later than Nathaniel's f. blessed John of Dedham, so strong a purit. as to give offence to Cromwell, wh. imprison. him at Lambeth, and aft. at Windsor; but the religion of the great soldier partook little of the fierce sincerity of Queen Mary, and he was too sagacious, if not humane, to put the confessor to death. See Brook's Lives III. 326. One John R. of our own days was min. at Rendham, in Co. Suffk. not long since, and may still be. NATHANIEL, Ipswich, s. of the preced. serv. in the cavalry in Philip's war 1676, and d. 14 June 1680, prob. unm. for the careful author of the Fam. Mem. tells, that his nuncup. will gave his prop. to neph. John, s. of his br. John. NATHANIEL, Portsmouth, youngest s. of Presid. John, ord. 3 May 1699, d. 3 Oct. 1723. He had by w. NOAH, Branford, youngest s. of John of the same, whose prop. he inherit. m. 8 Apr. 1673, Eliz. d. of the first Michael Taintor, had Mary, b. 14 Apr. 1675; John, 8 Nov. 1677; Josiah, 31 Jan. 1680; Hezekiah; Noah; Eliz.; and Ann; but the last four names are obt. from his will of 22 Dec. 1724, wh. ment. all the seven. OBADIAH, Southampton, L. I. 1673, where Thompson thinks he was in 1640, wh. would compel us to suppose, that he rem. from Lynn, to that place. In 1683, at the neighb. town of Southold are found Obadiah, and Obadiah jr. among the tax payers. RICHARD, Dover 1642. ROBERT, Newbury, by w. Susanna had Robert, b. 28 Apr. 1650; Thomas, 9 July 1652; John, 13 Mar. 1654; Susanna, 6 Feb. 1657; Joshua, 1 Aug. 1658; and d. 23 Dec. 1659; and his wid. m. William Thomas. His wid. m. Henry Woodhouse of Concord. In the geneal. of Nathaniel R's. s. Samuel, Geneal. Reg. V. 316, there seem. sev. points of doubtful exactness, tho. the gr. article is a very valua. one. One of the ds. should be call. Martha, for she admin. 1696, the est. of her br. John. Samuel had charg. his prop. with annuity of £10 to his wid. SAMUEL, New London, eldest s. of James the first, had good est. by devise of his gr.-f. Samuel Rowland, m. 17 Nov. 1662, Caulkins says, p. 297, but on p. 202 says 1664, Mary, d. of Thomas Stanton the first, had perhaps a fam. tho. I find no ment. of it in the hist. but he had d. Mary, wh. m. 2 Oct. 1684, Capt. Samuel Gilbert, and d. 30 Sept. 1756, aged 90; and he d. 1 Dec. 1713. SIMON, Boston, came in the

A Genealogy of the Rogers Family
American Genealogical Society
Buffalo, N.Y.
Octobr 1929

1. JOHN ROGERS of Marshfield, Mass., the progenitor of this family in America, was about thirty-four years old when he came from London, England, in April 1635, to Barbadoes in the Falcon. There is a belief that John was a relative of Rev. William Witherell who came to this country with him, and there is a tradition that the mother of Mr. Witherell was a daughter of John Rogers the Martyr; therefore the inference that the father of John was a brother of Witherell's mother. It is doubtful, however, as the Martyr suffered in 1555 and William Witherell was born in 1660, when the youngest child of the Martyr was over forty-five years old.

John Rogers removed to Marshfield in 1647 and resided there until his death in 1661. His wife, Frances, survived him and died in 1687. She is believed to have been the daughter of Robert Watson who came early to Plymouth and finally settled in Connecticut. Children of John and Frances:

2. John, born about 1632.
3. Joseph.
4. Timothy.
-- Mary.
-- Abigail.

2. JOHN ROGERS was born about 1632, in England. Married, first, October 8, 1656, Rhoda King who died about 1662; second, about 1663 to Elisabeth ---- who died Sept. 13, 1692;

third, Elizabeth ---- who died May 9, 1705. According to the church record, he died May 7, 1717, 85 years old. Children all born in Marshfield:

By first wife:
5. John, baptized August 23, 1657.
6. Thomas, born December 25, 1659.
-- Rhoda, bap. Aug. 3, 1662; died young.

Children by second wife:
-- Abigail, born November 3, 1663; married Nathaniel Chamberlain.
-- Mary, born March 10, 1665, married to Samuel Doggett in 1682.
-- Johanna, born October 7, 1667; married Judah Butler.
-- Elizabeth, born May 19, 1669; married Hugh Copperthwaite in 1699.

3. JOSEPH ROGERS; it is not known when or where he was born. He married Abigail Barker and resided in Duxbury close to the Marshfield line and in that part which became Pembroke. He died in 1716, and she about 1718. Children:
7. Joseph.
8. John.
9. Timothy.
-- Thomas, apparently died without issue.
-- Moses, apparently died unmarried.
-- Lydia, apparently died unmarried.
-- Rebecca.
-- Abigail, married Thomas Parris.
-- Francis, died without issue.

4. TIMOTHY ROGERS was probably born in ~~Situate~~ England, and died in 1728 surviving his wife, Eunice Stetson. Children born in Marshfield:
10 Timothy, born in 1690
11 Samuel, born
12 John.
-- Bethiah, died unmarried.
-- Honour, married William Torrey.
-- Eunice, baptized October 2, 1677; married Samuel Witherell in 1698.
-- Mary, married John Carver in 1709.
-- Hannah, married Samuel Lapham in 1701.

5. JOHN ROGERS was baptized in Marshfield, August 23, 1657. Neither the name of his first wife nor the date of their marriage is known. Of his second marriage, the Scituate record of his family says "John Rogers and Hannah his wife were married September 14, 1701". He died in 1738 survivsd by his wife. Children born in Scituate:

By first wife:
13 John, born March 14, 1682/3.
-- Alice, born March 26, 1685; married Thomas Clark, September 14, 1705.
-- Daniel, born 1688, died young.
-- Elizabeth, born October 1691.
-- Thomas, born August 5, 1695.

By second wife:
-- Hannah, born May 26, 1704.
14 Joshua, born April 22, 1708.
-- Mary, born April 15, 1712.
15 Caleb, born April 14, 1715.

6. THOMAS ROGERS was born in Marshfield on December 25, 1659 according to the Friends' records, but December 2. 1659, according to the town records. Married June 6, 1712, Bethiah Ewell who died January 23, 1756. He died March 6, 1745/6. Children born in Marshfield:

-- Rhoda, born May 28, 1713; married Benjamin Wing, October 19, 1738.
16 John, born December 19, 1714.
17 Thomas, born October 28, 1716.

A tradit. prob. equal. worthless, to sustain that, is giv. by D. that the mo. of W. was also a descend. of the martyr. DAWES

AND ALLIED FAMILIES

*DAWES (Daw, Daws)

WILLIAM[1] DAWES, born 1620 probably at Sudbury, performed the thrilling act of setting out as a youth of fifteen for the new world. On the English Customs House Register his name,[1] with that of a Francis Dexter only thirteen years old, immediately followed the name of one Daniel Hanbury aged twenty-nine and the copyist[2] deduced that these mere children might have come over in that man's care, though no subsequent connection has been seen between them. They embarked on the "Planter of London," Nicholas Trerice, Master, sailing about April 10, and arriving at Boston on June 7, 1635 after almost two months on the ocean. That voyage in the tiny sailing vessels of that day would no doubt have brought unspeakable nausea to many of the passengers, but that particular passage in that very spring on that identical vessel seems fraught with such far reaching results for us as we look back upon it now,

*One branch of this family which settled in Maine even rendered[82] their name as Dors and Dor in the fifth and subsequent generations (see p. 28).

It would be in accordance with tradition that this youth, aged fifteen, was a native of Sudbury in the County of Suffolk. Search reveals no record of his birth there. Tradition claims[3] that his father (assigned the same name as the emigrant) and mother, preceded him to New England "with the first body of Puritans who came over in 1628–9 and founded Boston and Salem,"[3] but soon returned to England. As for those items, the settlement at Salem was started in the fall of 1626. John Endicot came to Salem in September, 1628, with quite a party which might have included this couple, but Boston was not settled until after June of 1630. A number of people who came to New England did quickly return to the mother country, and this couple may have done so, but careful search has failed to show any actual documentary evidence that they ever were here, nor have there been discovered reliable records that would show any justification for the suggestion[3] attempting to furnish for our youthful emigrant a wealthy and armigerous English ancestry. One other claim[3] is that the theorized parents of our emigrant came on a vessel called the "Ambrose," had a son born on the voyage whom they named for the vessel, thus furnishing a theoretical background for the name which our emigrant gave his eldest son. As for a son born on the ocean, no evidence is seen, but there was a vessel called the "Ambrose" which sailed[1] in 1630 as a part of Winthrop's Fleet. Who its passengers were is entirely unknown, and even the name of its master is in controversy, for Drake in his "Antiquities" claims[33] that Capt. Nicholas Hurlstone was master, while Gov. John Winthrop in his Journal[34] makes Hurlstone master of the "Jewel" and Capt. John Lowe master of the "Ambrose." In case an earlier Dawes did come on the "Ambrose" and, perchance also returned on that vessel, it would become of interest to note that the above Journal under date of 1631 between February 18 and 22 records that:

> "The Ambrose, whereof Capt. Lowe was master being new masted at Charlton [Charlestown], spent [lost?] all her masts near Newfoundland, and had perished, if Mr. Peirce (see Index on Peirce) in the Lyon, who was her consort, had not towed her home to Bristol."[34]

It speaks highly of Capt. Peirce's seamanship that he could tow a vessel across the Atlantic Ocean during winter storms!

but Jonathan[2] died in 1690,* and on January 1, 1694, WILLIAM[1] conveyed his property on similar conditions, for £160, to Stephen[3] Minot (John[2], George[1]) who lived as neighbor on Sudbury Street "but this conveyance also seems to have been rescinded."[19] As late as 1695 WILLIAM[1] was still more or less active for Judge Sewall in his Diary recorded[20] as of April 9, 1695 "... This day father DAWS makes my little Bridge" and added as of December 23, 1695 that "WILLIAM DAWS pater" was one of the bearers at the burial of Dame Walker.[20] WILLIAM[1] seems to have left no will and Judge Samuel Sewall recorded of him on March 24, 1703–4 that "WILLIAM DAWS, Mason, dyes about 2 p. m. A good old man, full of days, is got well to the end of his weary Race."[20]

The known children of WILLIAM[1] and SUSANNA (MILLS) DAWES, the first two born at Braintree and the others at Boston, were[4,15,19] m. Boston, not later than 1663. b. 2 July 1642, Braintree; d. Boston 9 Nov. 1705 æ 63

I. AMBROSE[2], see following.
II. Joanna[2], bap. June 2, 1650, as dau. of "(——) DAWES of Braintree;" she must have d. before 1657.
III. Susan[2], bap. Oct. 17, 1652, at Boston as dau. "of WILLIAM DAWES;" d. doubtless after 1695 when a child was born to John Nichols; m. before Apr., 1675, John[2] Nichols† [Mordecai[1] and Alice (Hallett) Nichols] whom AMBROSE[2] DAWES called "brother" in his will.
IV. William[2], b. Mar. 8, bap. 11, 1654–5 called "son of WILLIAM and SUSANNAH", evidently d. before his father though it might have been he, called "William Daues" who was a member[6] of Capt. John Hull's Company in 1681. Reference to WILLIAM[1] as "pater" when he was a bearer at the funeral[20] of Dame Walker on Dec. 23, 1695, argues that this son was still living.
V. Johanna[2], bap. Aug. 2, 1657, as dau. "of WILLIAM DAWES; perhaps she who as "Hannah of (——) and SUSANNA DAWES", who died Jan. 14, 1659, or
VI. perhaps a Hannah Dawes, erroneously called "of John and Susanna" who was born on Jan. 7, 1659, was the Hannah who died on Jan. 14, 1659.
VII. Jonathan[2], b. Nov. 3, bap. 10, 1661; d. Oct. 5, 1690; m. by 1682 Hannah[4] Morse (John[3], John[2], Samuel[1]).[38] Extant tax lists of Boston show his name[6] in 1686, 1687 and 1688.

AMBROSE[2] DAWES (William[1]) was born[4,19] at Braintree on July 24, 1642, died[39] at Boston on November 9, and was[20] buried there on the tenth, 1705 in his sixty-third year, having married at Boston not later than December, 1663 MARY[2] BUMSTEAD (see Bumstead, p. 126). His home was next to his father's on the east side of Sudbury Street, very probably as the gift of a portion of the father's property, and each of them paid a tax on a house[6] there in 1676. AMBROSE[2] is recorded in extant Boston tax lists as having been taxed[6] also in 1681, 1686–8, 1691, 1695 and 1700–1. He followed in his father's footsteps as to occupation, becoming a brick mason, and being appointed in January, 1669–70 to serve[6,36] with his father in surveying "chimnys." He was appointed to serve[6] as hog-reeve in 1678 and

*At his death Jonathan[2] owed £90 to his father.[19]

This was[5] Sarah Walker, widow of Robert[1] who had died in 1687.

†Mordecai[1] Nichols died[41] about 1663 and his widow Alice (daughter of Richard[1] Hallet) was appointed administratrix of his estate. ROGER[1] CLAPP helped to take the inventory and was appointed with widow Alice as a guardian of the minor son John[2] Nichols (born at Boston on August 18, 1653, though a Randall Nichols of Charlestown also had a son John born in the latter town on January 16, 1653). Widow Alice married secondly, between 1665 and 1671, as his second wife Thomas[1] Clarke of Boston, having made a premarital contract with him whereby the house and land left by Mordecai should belong to his son John[2]; if she died first she should have the power to dispose of such estate as she brought with her; but if Clarke died first Alice was to have her own estate plus £200 from his. Legal difficulty resulted and ROGER[1] CONANT in October, 1671, testified that he had seen a new room built by Clarke onto the original Mordecai Nichols home. Clarke also built a second house on the Nichols land and these are undoubtedly the two "messauges" which John[2] Nichols "sold"[13] to WILLIAM[1] DAWES in April and September, 1675, and redeemed[19] on December 25, 1679 (see p. 13).

WILLIAM[5] DAWES (1745–1799) who rode with Revere. This tablet* (see plate III, p. 7) was placed in 1899 by the Sons of the American Revolution.[17] On the adjoining lot is a monument dedicated to the other Boston branch of the Dawes family, namely to Col. Thomas[5] Dawes, (Thomas[4], THOMAS[3], AMBROSE[2], WILLIAM[1]).

The children[19] of AMBROSE[2] and MARY (BUMSTEAD) DAWES, all born in Boston, were[19,43]

I. Mary[3], b. Sept. 24, 1664, bap. at Boston First Church on Dec. 23, 1666; d. after Oct. 17, 1705; called "Mary Webster" by her father's will; entered into a baptismal covenant[5,71] at Old South Church on April 30, 1680, as did also her sister Rebecca[3] and their uncle Jonathan[2]. She and Rebecca[3] became church members there on Jan. 29, 1688–9; she married prob. by 1680 James[2] Webster (James[1] of Boston, brewer).[4]

II. Rebecca[3], b. Feb. 25, 1665; d. after Oct. 17, 1705, when her father's will appears to have called her Rebecca "Moulton"; with her sister Mary[3] she entered into a baptismal covenant[5,71] at Old South Church on April 30, 1680, "became reconciled" to that church on Oct. 19, 1684 and had a son Benjamin Marshall bap. a week later; was a communicant there in 1688–9; m. 1st about 1682–3 Benjamin Marshall who d. after 1688; m. 2nd in 1693, Eliezer[3] Morton (Ephraim[2], George[1]) of Plymouth;[71] was still a member of Boston 3rd Church in April 1694 when a child was bap. at Plymouth; was dismissed to Plymouth Church by or before March, 1703; she or another of the same name was called[44] "widow Rebecca Morton"[71] in November, 1727 and in December, 1732.

III. Susan[3], said to have been bap. at Boston First Church on Dec. 23, 1666, also said to have been bap. Dec. 30, 1666; must have d. yng.

IV. Anna[3], said to have been bap. Dec. 30, 1666; prob. d. yng.

V. Susanna[3], b. Mar. 19, 1668; perhaps she who was bap. Mar. 21, 1669; must have d. before 1673.

VI. William[3], b. Dec. 19, 1671; a mariner called "of Boston, New England, mariner, at present belonging to the ship Jeremy, Capt. Gilbert Bant, Commander, "when he made his will in London, Eng., on Mar. 8, 1698–9, naming as his residuary legatees his brother, THOMAS DAWES of Boston, bricklayer, and friend Hannah Pen of Boston, late of Charlestown, New England.[42]

VII. Susanna[3], b. Jan. 11, 1673, and bap. the same day; prob. d.s.p. and before her father.

VIII. Ambrose[3], bap. Mar. 5, 1675; called "eldest son" by his father's will; resident at Duxbury and Nantucket; m. 1st at Nantucket Apr. 14, 1704, Mehitable[3] Gardner (John[2], THOMAS[1] of Cape Anne and Salem); m. 2nd, there, July 8, 1714, Mary Chandler who died at Nantucket Feb. 1, 1768, being called "second wife of Ambrose, jr." The known children of Ambrose[3] were: *

Joseph[4], Priscilla[4], Ebenezer[4], Thankful[4] and Gideon[4] of whom some of the descendants of Ebenezer[4] removed to Maine and were recorded as "Dors" and "Dor."

IX. Joseph[3], b. Oct. 21, 1677; prob. d.s.p. before his father.

X. THOMAS[3], see following. b. 1680 d. 1802 æ 50; m 1702; Sarah Story -1759

THOMAS[3] DAWES (Ambrose[2], William[1]) born in Boston[25] on[127] November 1, and baptized November 7, 1680, died there of apoplexy on March 17 or 18, 1749–50, having been married in that town on August 20, 1702 by Rev. Mr. Samuel Willard of Old South Church to[89] SARAH[1] STORY (see Story, p. 570) who survived her husband nine years. He was by trade a mason[25] and builder as his father and grandfather had been before him. As has been shown, after his mother's death in 1706 THOMAS[3] received one-fourth of the small movable estate which his father left, as well as the family home on Sudbury Street (which had first been appraised[19] at £60 and later[113] at £70) and he assumed legacies totaling £30. On October 31,

*See also map, p. 42.

The published record[43] claims that THOMAS[3] was baptized at the First Church but that cannot be true since his father's membership was at the Third Church.

ROGERS. 1. John, was freeman in Watertown, 1639 and Bond supposes that he was son of John, who d. there, 1674, Dec. 22, aged 80. The conjecture that he was a baker is strengthened by the fact that Billerica gave him a grant of several poles of land, "against his own dwelling-house, to set a kitchen-house on." This first grant in town was in 1656, and prob. he came here that year. It was eight-tenths of a single share. His first grant was 23 acres, "lying upon the township, his house-lot being included. It is bounded partly by common land, and partly by James Kidder, on the north, and by our great river on the west, by Jacob Brown, on the south, by Concord road, on the east." This was near where the town-house stands. He had another lot on the west side of long street, near the Deacon Spalding place; a lot in the Second Division, near Shawshin river, and one "in the common field, beyond content," or Tewksbury, with meadow-lots in the various divisions. He m. 1640, Priscilla Dawes, of Boston. She d. 1663, April 21, and he m. 1669, July 6, widow Elizabeth Brown, of Boston. She was mother of our George Brown, 3. Mr. Rogers d. 1685–6, Jan. 25, aged 74. His grave-stone is the oldest still standing in town, in the South burying-ground. Ch. John, 2, b. 1641, Sept. 11. Mary, b. 1643, Oct. 26; m. John French, 2. Thomas, 3. Abigail, m. 2. John, son of John, 1, b. 1641, Sept. 11; m. 1667, Oct. 10, Mary Shed, dau. of Daniel, 1. He lived just beyond North Billerica, and his house was for some years the extreme outpost in that direction. It stood 25 rods east of the railroad, and 80 rods north of Gov. Talbot's house. His wife d. 1688, Aug. 17, and he m. 1688–9, Feb. 7, Abigail Rogers, widow of William, of Charlestown. He was killed by Indians, 1695, Aug. 5. Ch. Mary, b. 1668, Sept. 21; prob. m. William Patten, 5. John, b. 1670–1, March, and d. April 15. Samuel, 6, b. 1672, April 5. Her son Joseph lived, 1757–60, in Billerica, where his son Jonathan was born, 1759, Nov. 11, who was one of the pioneers in the settlement of Cavendish, Vt.; farmer, surveyor and lawyer. His grandson, Henry Bridge Atherton, grad. D. C., 1859; was severely wounded in the Peninsula Campaign, and is a lawyer and editor in Nashua. Humphrey Atherton, an eminent lawyer of Philadelphia, who grad. D. C., 1806, and d. 1849, was also a descendant of our Hannah Rogers.

The grant of land which probably included his house-lot was made, 1678, May 14, "three acres of land, more or less, lying West of y^e^ highway, between Roger Toothaker's house and y house of Jno. Rogers, sen., beginning about four pole Southward of y^e^ bridge over that brook, and then runs Westward to y^e^ river, to a white oake; bounded by town land Southward; by y^e^ highway on y^e^ East, and Northwest by Concord river; West by y^e^ comon land North," etc. This road would pass near the depot, and his house was perhaps in the heart of the village, near the school-house at North Billerica. The site has special interest, as he, with his son Thomas, was involved in the same cruel fate with his brother John, 1695, Aug. 6. His widow d. 1696, April 4, (but grave-stone says 1697, April 14, aged 35). DEATH: "BALL, Abigail, w. Eleazar, Oct. 9, 1741. [in her 39th year, G.S]"

Rutland Deaths, VITAL RECORDS OF RUTLAND, MASSACHUSETTS, p. 214.

Abigail Ball's tombstone inscription read as follows: "Here lies the Body/of Mrs./ABIGAIL BALL/Wife of Deacon Eleazer/Ball who died Oct./9th 1741 in ye 39th/year of her age."

David Everett Phillips, ed., MONUMENTAL INSCRIPTIONS IN THE OLD CEMETERY AT RUTLAND, WORCESTER COUNTY, MASS., "Laid out" June 7, 1717, (Columbus, Ohio: The "Old Northwest" Genealogical Society, 1902), p. 6.

The Rev. Henry A. Hazen, a.m. in the HISTORY OF BILLERICA, included incorrect information on page 123 concerning Abigail. "6. [Rogers] Samuel, son of John, 2, b. 1672, April 5; m. 1695-6, Jan. 2, Grace --- [Rogers]. She d. 1706, June 12, aged 27, and her grave-stone bears the earliest date in the grave-yard at the 'Corner'." . . . Abigail, b. 1703, April 9 [Billerica]; m. Jonathon Prince.

Abigail Rogers, born 9 April 1703 married Eleazer Ball. A deed from Ball to Rogers in Deed Book 23, page 59, Worcester Registry of Deeds, Worcester County Courthouse, Worcester, Massachusetts, contained the following specific statement concerning the father of Abigail:

"that I Eleazer Ball of Rutland in the County of Worcester . . . with Abigail my Wife One of the Daughters of Samuel Rogers Late of Harvard in the County of Worcester aforesaid yeoman Deceased for and in Consideration of the sum of thirty Seven pounds Currant money of said province to use in hand well and truly paid before the [unclear] of by Samuel Rogers of Harvard . . . and other estate whatsoever situate lying and being in Harvard aforesaid and Elsewhere in New England which our father the Said Samuel Rogers Died Seized . . . Worcester SS Rutland April 6th 1733 . . ."

This writer believes that Jonathon Prince probably married Abigail Rogers, born in Billerica on May 17, 1712, the daughter of John [Rogers] and Abigail.

THE GENEALOGY OF THE PRINCE FAMILY FROM 1660 TO 1899, by Frank A. Prince gave the following information:

"III. Doctor Jonathan (11), b. in Salem village; bapt. there July 20, 1707; m. first, Abigail Rogers, of Billerica; m. second, Mary Porter . . ."

Dr. Prince had one child, Abigail, by his first wife, Abigail. The first child, Jonathon, born to his second wife was born "(Jan. 21, town record.) Oct. 1734."

The above-mentioned data has convinced this writer that Hazen made an error in his HISTORY OF BILLERICA concerning Abigail Rogers, born there on 5 April 1703.

Notes and sources of information

HUSBAND - John ROGERS-1786

The following selection from Frank E. Shedd's, DANIEL SHED GENEALOGY, page 46 provided the following information concerning the father, grandfather & great grandfather of John Rogers, Jr., husband of Mary Shedd:

"JOHN ROGERS, b. in Watertown, Mass., 11 Sept. 1641, son of John and Priscilla (Dawes) Rogers, and grandson of Thomas and Mary (---) Rogers, great grandson of John and Mary (---) Rogers, and great-great-grandson of John and Mary (---) Rogers, all of Moulsham in Chelmsford, co. Essex, England."

If the above selection was correct, John Rogers, husband of Priscilla Dawes, was born in England. Hazen stated in his HISTORY OF BILLERICA, page 122, that "John, [Rogers] was freeman in Watertown, 1639 and Bond supposes that he was son of John, who d., there, 1674, Dec. 22, aged 80." Bond's supposition is incorrect concerning John's father if the genealogy of Daniel Shed is correct. Shed stated on page 46 that John Rogers, father of John Rogers, husband of Mary Shedd, was the son of Thomas and Mary [Rogers] of Moulsham in Chelmsford, co. Essex, England.

MARRIAGE 1: "ROGERS. 1. John, . . . He m. 1640, Priscilla Dawes, of Boston. She d. 1663, April 21, and he m. 1669, July, 6, widow Elizabeth Brown, of Boston. She was the mother of our George Brown.:

PREFACE.

This work was first undertaken to secure the records of our own branch of the Rugg family. As the search went on, I found so much belonging to other lines that I yielded to the urgent request of friends to continue the work and trace out all of the descendants of John Rugg, who settled in Lancaster, Mass., in 1654. Now I have gathered what I can find and if those who receive it enjoy it as much as I have in its preparation, it will give me added pleasure.

I have used every available means to complete the records. Church records, town histories and records, grave stones, old family Bibles, family genealogies and the memory of aged people have each and all contributed to the work. There are probably mistakes in names and dates, for I have often received from two members of the same family, records in which the names and dates are given differently. I have found it impossible to get the record of all in this country who bear the name of Rugg. Some persons have so limited a knowledge of their ancestors and the records which they send are so meager, that I cannot trace them. I have found one family descended from a Rugg who came from England about one hundred years ago, but I believe that most of the Ruggs now living in America are descendants of John Rugg of Lancaster.

The arrangement of the book is so simple that but little explanation is needed. Each person has been numbered. In case a person marries, the husband or wife takes the same number. I have carried out the male and female lines equally as far as could be obtained, and in all cases, I have given all I could find. Following each Rugg name is the line of descent from John Rugg, each with the number belonging to him. A little study will make it plain.

I have made use of the following abbreviations:—b. for born; bap. for baptized; m. for married; unm. for unmarried; d. for died; d. y. for died young; res. for resided. The plus sign + following a name and date of birth signifies that the record is continued under the proper number.

To those who have so kindly aided me in various ways, I return heartfelt thanks, and submit the results to those interested.

The Descendants of John Rugg

RELATIONSHIP EXPLAINED.

The following article, which we copy from the Boston Transcript, may help explain a matter which is very imperfectly understood by people in general. We make use of the following fictitious pedigree to illustrate:

Mr. Jones.

William Jones. Thomas Jones.

Alfred Jones. John Jones. Charles Jones. Tom Jones.

Mary Jones. Henry Jones. Richard Jones.

The original Mr. Jones is supposed to have two sons, William and Thomas Jones. Of these two brothers, William is the father of Alfred and John, and Thomas is the father of Charles and Tom. Mary is the daughter of Alfred, Henry is the son of John, and Richard is the son of Charles. It is easy to understand that Alfred, John, Charles, and Tom are all grandsons of the original Mr. Jones, and that Mary, Henry, and Richard are his great-grandchildren. Now we can understand that Alfred and John are first cousins to Charles and Tom, the father of the former pair of brothers being brother to the father of the latter pair. But now comes the difficulty. What is the "relationship" between Tom and Mary? Tom is first cousin to Mary's father Alfred, what relation is Mary herself to Tom? Some persons say "second cousin," but this is a mistake. She is the "first cousin once removed," a relationship which may be defined as that of the "child of a first cousin." This relationship existing as it does between two persons in different generations, i. e. not descended by an equal number of steps from the common ancestor is not a mutual relationship, like "brother" or "first cousin." In other words, if Alfred is brother to John, John is brother to Alfred; if Alfred is first cousin to Charles, Charles is first cousin to Alfred, because these are in the same "generation." Therefore these relationships, brother and first cousin are mutual. But uncle and nephew are not mutual relationships, for if Alfred is uncle to Henry, Henry is not uncle to Alfred, and if Richard is nephew to Tom, Tom is not nephew to Richard, and "first cousin once removed" is a relationship like nephew. If Mary and Henry are first cousins once removed to Charles, it does not follow that Charles is "first cousin once removed" to them. He is often called so, but quite as erroneously as an uncle would be called his nephew's "nephew." The curious fact remains that, for the converse of the relationship "first cousin once removed," i. e. for a parent's first cousin, there is no name of universal acceptance. It has been shown that a first cousin's child is called a "first cousin once removed." On the same principle, a first cousin's grandchild is called a first cousin twice removed, and so on, the number of "removes" showing by how many generations, the two persons who are so related differ. On the same principle that a great-grandchild is rare, i. e. a person lineally removed by three generations, a first cousin three times removed, is, speaking generally, somewhat rare but far more common doubtless than a great-grandchild, because the former means the great-grandchild of a person's first cousin, who may be much older than the person himself. Indeed it is quite conceivable that a man should live to see his first cousin five times removed: for he might easily have a first cousin fifty or sixty years older than himself, and live to see that cousin's descendants of the fifth generation. "Second cousins" are persons whose nearest common ancestor is great-grandparent to each, in other words, if two persons are first cousins, the children of the one are second cousins to the children of the other. The children of second cousins are, of course, third cousins, likewise the children of two third cousins are fourth cousins and so on.

THE DESCENDANTS.

JOHN RUGG [1] m. 1st. Nov. 4, 1654, Martha Prescott, bap. at Sowerby, Halifax Parish, England, March 11, 1632, dau. of John and Mary Platts Prescott. She d. at Lancaster, Mass., Nov. 24, 1655. m. 2d, May 4, 1660, Hannah Prescott, a sister of his first wife. She was born after her parents left England, probably at the Barbadoes where the Prescotts stayed for a time before sailing for New England. She was killed at the time of the Indian Massacre Sept. 11, 1696. No date of the death of John Rugg is to be found, but he made his will Dec. 9, 1696, and the inventory of his estate was taken Jan. 19, 1697, which fixes the date of his death between these two dates. 11 children, II Generation.

LEGEND OF PETER RUGG YE BOSTONIAN.

In the New England Galaxy, 1824, by Jonathan Dunwell, may be found the legend of Peter Rugg. This states that in the year 1770, Peter Rugg and his little daughter Jenny were on their way home from Concord, and, to quote the story, at dark he stopped at Menotomy, now West Cambridge, at the door of Mr. Cutter, a friend of his, who urged him to tarry for the night. On Rugg's declining to stop, Mr. Cutter urged him vehemently. "Why, Mr. Rugg," said Cutter, "the storm is overwhelming you! The night is exceedingly dark; your little daughter will perish! You are in an open chaise and the tempest is increasing!" "Let the storm increase!" said Rugg with a fearful oath, "I will see home tonight, in spite of the last tempest, or may I never see home!" At these words, he gave his whip to his high-spirited horse and disappeared in a moment. Because of his oath, Mr. Rugg was condemned to ride on forever.

This legend was used by Miss Louise Imogene Guiney as a basis for her poem of "Peter Rugg, the Bostonian" published in Scribner's Magazine several years ago. It is an interesting story, especially Miss Guiney's version of it, but it is not founded upon facts. There was no Peter Rugg.

THE RUGGS OF ENGLAND.

The family of Rugg took their name from a lordship, or hamlet in the town of Pattingham in Staffordshire and were of good degree and eminency. The name is variously spelled, Rugg, Rug, Rugge, and even Rygge and Rigge. The younger branch of the family settled in Norfolk. In the 49th year of the reign of Edward III, Nicholas Rugg, second son of John Rugg of Rugg, seated himself there, and was father of Clement Rugge, who was living in the 12th year of the reign of Henry IV. His son William was father of Thomas Rugge, mentioned in the 23rd year of the reign of Henry VI.

Thomas left Robert Rugge of North Repps, his son and heir. In the 2nd year of Edward IV, Robert became the father of William, whose son Robert lived in the 1st year of Edward V and was father of William, of North Repps, Gent. This William Rugge died in 1512, will proved June 7, 1512. He married Agnes —— and had five sons, Nicholas, Roger, William, Bishop of Norwich, John, and Robert Rugg Esq., Mayor of Norwich, who married Elizabeth Wood of Norwich. Robert Rugg's will dated Dec. 24, 1558, and proved June 26, 1559, names his two eldest sons, William, and Francis, his executors, and George Themilthorp, Gent. Supervisor, the husband probably, of his daughter, also Robert his son, Archdeacon of Suffolk, and Alice his wife. The son William Rugge of Felsingham, heir to his uncle the Bishop, married Thomasyne, daughter of Sir Robert Townsend, chief justice of Chester. They had a son Thomas Rugge Esq. William Rugge Esq., of Felsingham, is said to have changed his arms, per fess, sable and argent and unicorn saliant, counterchanged, armed maned and unguled, or to that of gules, a chevron engrailed between three mullets pierced argent; but Richard de Rugg, who lived in the 2nd year of Richard III, and the Bishop of Norwich, bore, as it appears this last coat. In Burke's Peerage, the crest belonging to the first coat of arms is given as an Ibex's head sable armed maned and tufted, or The crest of the second coat was a talbot passant, argent, collared, ringed and eared, sable.

WILLIAM RUGG OR REPPES, BISHOP OF NORWICH.

William Rugg, Bishop of Norwich, was the son of William Rugg of North Reppes in Norfolk and appears to have been educated in the priory of Norwich, and to have been sent as one of the scholars of that house to pursue his studies at Cambridge. He entered at Caius College, proceeded B. D. in 1509, and commenced D. D. in 1513. When Bishop Nix visited the monastery of Norwich on April 27, 1514, Rugg was the sacrist there, and preached the Latin sermon usually delivered on such occasions. According to the almost invariable practice, on his becoming a monk professed at Norwich, he dropped his surname, and was distinguished by the name of his birthplace Reppes, by which he was commonly, but by no means always, known.

In 1520 he was prior of the cell of Yarmouth, six years later, sub-prior of Norwich, and April 26, 1530, he was installed abbot of St. Bennet's, Hulme, a mitred abbey, which gave him a seat in the House of Lords. Rugg took a prominent part in obtaining the judgment of the university of Cambridge in favor of the divource of the King, from Queen Catherine; and on June 7, 1534, he with twenty-five of the monks of St. Bennet, signed the attestation that the Bishop of Rome had no authority in England.

At the death of Bishop Nix on 14 January, 1536, an act of parliament was passed whereby the ancient barony and revenues of the see was transferred to the King, and the estates of the abbey of Hulme and of the priory of Hickling were handed over as a new endowment for the bishopric of Norwich. Rugg was consecrated bishop probably on June 11, 1536.

That same summer his name appears among the signatures to the Reasons to justify princes in summoning a General Council, and not the Pope of Rome by his sole authority.

He was concerned in the compilation of the Bishop's Book, and in 1539 he took part in the debate on the Six Articles. On the question of whether there were two or seven sacraments, he sided with the King against Cranmer. In 1540, he was one of the three commissioners for dealing with charges of heresy and for his conduct in this capacity, he was accused of cruelty. The latter years of his life were much troubled by his financial embarrassments; he was heavily in debt, and was compelled at last to resign his bishopric about Christmas 1549, receiving an annuity of 200 pounds, to be paid quarterly, and a discharge from all liability for waste in his diocese. He died Sept. 21, 1551, and was buried in Norwich Cathedral. The inscription on the brass on his stone was this:

"Hic iacet Willus Rugg, Sacrae Theologiae Professor, quondam huius Ecclesiae Norwicensis Episcopus, qui obiit vicesimo primo die Sept. M°CCCCC°i°."

EPITAPHS OF ROBERT RUGG AND FRANCIS RUGG.

ROBERT RUGG.

There is a stone in the south aisle of St. Mary's Chapel, having the portraitures of a man and a woman; from his mouth, "Pater de Celis deus miserere nobis," from her's, "Filii Redemptor Mundi deus miserere nobis." At each corner is a coat, viz.: a chevron engrailed between three mullets, and the mercers arms.

From the four sons' mouths, "Deus propicius esto animabus parentum nostrorum." The daughters are pulled off; a label as that before remains.

"Of your Charytie pray for the Soules of Robarte Rugge Esquire, some time Alderman, and twyse Mayer of this worshipfull Citie of Norwich, and Elizabeth his Wyffe, which had Issue betwyxt them five Sonnes and three Daughters, and the said Robarte Rugge departed this transitory life XVIII Daye of Februarie in the yeare of our Lord God 1558, of whose Soules say you.

Jesus have mercye, Amen."

FRANCIS RUGG.

In the north aisle of St. Mary's chapel is a monument thus inscribed:—

"Hic prope Patricio Ruggorum sangwine cretus
Franciscus recubat, qui septaginta duosque,
Per-vivens annos, isti ter praefuit Urbis,

A Senator of Senators renouned Race,
Was Francis Rugg, now entombed in this Place
He was thrice Mayor in 72 years' Life.
Ann, being by birth an Aldrich, late his Wife
In love hath reared this Memorial
To celebrate his worthy Name withal.
From Bloomfield's "History of Norfolk."

ROBERT RUGGE.

Robert Rygge, Rigge, or Rugge (d. 1410), chancellor of the university of Oxford, was a native of Devonshire. He was elected fellow of Exeter College in 1362 and held that position until the autumn of 1372. Afterwards he was a fellow of Merton College and was bursar in 1374-5.

He was a secular priest and had graduated as B. D. before Sept. 22, 1378, and as D. D. before the date of the condemnation of Wiclif by William of Berton, probably in 1378-80.

As a member of Merton College, he would naturally be inclined to favor of the Wiclifites; and his accession as chancellor of the university, on May 30, 1381, probably marked the temporary ascendancy of the reformer's party. Rugge had trouble with the archbishop because he favored Wiclif's followers. In 1384, he obtained the exemption of the colleges from the payment of tenths. In 1386 he was one of the commissioners for settling the dispute at Oriel college, about the election of a provost. In the same year he expelled Robert Lytham of Merton college from the university for disturbing the peace of the town. He had been ordered in 1385 to prohibit the quarrels of north and south, and in 1388 was deposed from his office as chancellor by authority of parliament for having failed to preserve the peace.

He was again chancellor in 1391 but held the office only one year. On Feb. 16, 1395, he was appointed canon of Exeter, and archdeacon of Barnstaple. He was one of the doctors appointed in 1398 to consider the letter of the university of Paris on the schism.

In 1400, he resigned his archdeaconry and on Jan. 30 was appointed chancellor of Exeter Cathedral.

He died early in the spring of 1410.

Previously to 1393, he had endowed a chest for loans to poor scholars at Exeter college, and at his death bequeathed some books to the college. (From "The Dictionary of National Biography.")

THOMAS RUGGE.

Thomas Rugge (d. 1672) diarist, was a descendant of John Rugge who was created archdeacon of Wells in place of John Cotterell in 1572; John Rugge was noted for his knowledge of civil law which he studied in Germany; became vicar of Wynford in 1573, a canon of Westminster in 1576, and died in 1581.

Thomas was born in London, and was a citizen throughout the civil war. In 1659, he commenced his manuscript diary entitled "Mercurius Politicus Redivious, or a collection of the most Material Occurances and Transactions in Publick Affairs. Since Anno Dom. 1659 until [28 March 1672] serving as an annuall diurnal for future Satisfaction and Information. Together with a Table; &c." The table is imperfect, but the headlines of each page serve as some indication of the contents, compressed in two large quarto volumes. The diary seems to have been compiled from news-sheets. It is fullest in the accounts it gives of doings in London, and a good half is occupied with the events of 1661-2. It ceases abruptly in 1672, when it is supposed that Rugge died. The diary has never been printed, and its independent interest is not great. But it corroborates Pepys in many particulars, and was used by Lingard during the compilation of the last volume of his History. It belonged in 1693 to Thomas Grey, second earl of Stamford, and was purchased by the British Museum at Heber's sale in Feb. 1836. (From "The Dictionary of National Biography.")

JOHN RUGG OF LANCASTER, MASS., THE EMIGRANT ANCESTOR.

Concerning the ancestry of John Rugg, the most persistent efforts have failed to discover his parentage or place of birth. From the fact that he married two daughters of John Prescott who was from England, and that he was always associated with people who were of that nationality, it seems probable that he also came from England. No date of his arrival in this country has yet been found, although the shipping lists and everything bearing on the subject have been diligently searched. He was in Watertown, Mass., for a time before going to Lancaster, Mass., where he married and settled in 1654.

In the Charlestown Land Records, we find the following, which we copy verbatim:

"A sale of a Hous & Garden Plott with other Lands by John Drinker inhabitant in Charlestown unto John Rugg inhabitant in Lancaster both towns in New England the tenth day of the first month a thousand six hundred fifty five."

"Know all men by theese presents that I John Drinker Ship Carpenter Inhabitant in Charlestown New England with the consent of Elizabeth Drinker my wiffe Have Sould [and by this declare it] unto John Rugg Planter inhabitant in Lancaster in the sayd New England a certain Hous or tenement with a garden by it And alsoe a piece of Marsh belonging to the Hous and lying beyond the Hous Being the just halfe of that marsh which was given by the Town unto Philip Drinker & James Green the other halfe being now in William Bicknor's hands The Hous Garden and Marsh are standing lying & Situate at the East end of the Stinted common Butting easte upon a little creek West upon the Common North upon the Street & South by William Bicknor Alsoe A. cowe comon Lying on the Stinted common without the neck Likewise twoo Akers of Marsh meadows by estimation more or less Situate in Mistick Marshes butting West upon North River Easte upon upland and running up into the woodland as far as other lotts doe Run up and were layd out by the Towne Apoyntment It is bounded South by Seth Switzer and North by Richard Palgrave now Ralph Shepherds &c.
